

ABSTRACT

A system and method for providing alert messages to users of Mobile Subscriber Units whereby only such users who are located in the local geographical area effected by 5 the alert receive the messages. The invention further permits limiting transmission of such alerts to only appropriate categories of message content (e.g. weather only) and classification of recipients (e.g., volunteer firemen).